

A day with progress.

This morning, Monday August 23, 2010, I find myself in our office in Barcelona Spain, thinking about all that is going on in the world- financial crisis, real estate markets in turmoil, floods everywhere, forest fires and earthquakes in many parts of the world, famine and human suffering in every corner of the world. I looked to our company's slogan "Investing for a Better World", and I asked myself the question of how we can be of help in these horrific situations which human race is going through- in which the world is suffering so very much. Something that came to mind is that the suffering and tragedies continue; it is an unstoppable train coming with a great velocity that collides against us, against humanity. What could we do to help? I believe that we have to raise up in unity and start a movement against disaster, against suffering for a human race in danger, in danger of losing all that we have worked for, invested for, lived for and died for. If we continue just talking about how bad things are, that very act becomes another crisis in and of itself. We have to speak to the circumstances in a positive way, to the crisis that is not going to defeat us, and most of all to our God, so that we may overcome every dilemma; to be able to see the invisible in order for us to conquer the impossible. The human race needs to wake up to the very things that want to destroy us and use them to save ourselves. We keep fighting and it is time to start attacking the very depths of ourselves in order to be able to win this war against what we have created; and that very thing is fear. Are we fighting for our survival or are we fighting our own fears?

My revolution is not communism, my revolution is not socialism, my revolution is progress and progress around the world. We still have time to build a better world. This world still can be conquered. This world is looking for someone to rescue it. There is a passage in the bible that grabbed my attention and it says: "that the earth is waiting for the manifestation of the sons of God." The very earth wants to be rescued and You, I, We, They and US can do it. I hope I don't stand alone on this one. Let's finish what we started and tell the world that we are more than conquerors, and everything is going to be fine. Let's start this revolution of progress in every area of our world.

SEVEN TIPS TO OVERCOME FEAR

1. God is and still in control
2. Sacrifice your present for a better future
3. Think positive
4. There is hope
5. it is not the end of the world
6. Think of others
7. Don't give up

Have a good profitable day!
